

A NOTE FROM OUR FOUNDERS

"London Design Festival is planned to take place from 12–20 September this year.

Nobody knows what the situation with Covid-19 will be in six months, so we are designing an innovative responsible programme which can adapt to the situation at the time.

For this 18th edition of the Festival, we are exploring new ideas to inspire and inform our audiences, whilst keeping them safe.

In these challenging times, we are working virtually with our partners across the city to stage a great celebration of forward-thinking design, which is full of hope.

More than ever, we look forward to welcoming visitors and the creative community to enjoy London Design Festival this Autumn. In the meantime, please stay safe and well."
