

The Sofa forLife is the first sustainable, circular economy, modular sofa design. Created by a team of young product design engineers who aim to kickstart the circular economy revolution...one sofa at a time! Made from sustainable plywood, coconut fibres and textiles, its modular nature allows the sofa to grow with you. Increase size, change colour and replace components over time - all within a circular service.